JSC saddles up for Go Texan rodeo activities

Center Director to dedicate cooperative Longhorn Project

JSC invites all employees to join in JSC's Go Texan rodeo activities and participate in a dedication of the Longhorn Project from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 5, in Rocket Park.

The Longhorn Project is a cooperative effort involving JSC, the Clear Creek Independent School District, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo and the NASA/Clear Creek/Friendswood Go Texan Association.

To kick off the dedication, the Texas Independence Trail Riders—125 horses and riders, plus several wagons—will mosey through the center and stop at Rocket Park. Several area restaurants, including Outback Steakhouse, Tortugas, Estabans, Fun to Go Cajun, Sweet Mesquite and Mediterranean Grill, will be selling food and drinks. Live entertainment will be offered, and everyone will have a chance to meet the trail riders.

JSC Director George Abbey and dignitaries from JSC's partners will officially dedicate the Longhorn Project, which is designed to further agricultural education at the high school level.

JSC and contractor employees are strongly encouraged to attend unless their presence at their workstation is crucial to the safe operations of the center or off-site installations.

Employees' friends and family also are invited to attend. Unbadged visitors will be allowed on-site and directed to designated parking areas when they tell the guard they are here for the Longhorn dedication. Visitors are encouraged to use JSC's Main Gate, off Saturn Blvd.

JSC shuttle buses will pick up and drop off employees at Bldg. 14 near Rocket Park during the event.
